

2024 PAL Session Materials

Session 1 – Researcher Phenotypes 1

- Knutson CV
- Raghavan CV
- Wilson CV
- Key factors for enhancing academic productivity and fostering mentorship in spine research

Session 2 – Researcher Phenotypes 2

- Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Industry-Sponsored Research
- Pitfalls and Safeguards in Industry-funded Research

Session 3 – Department Phenotypes

- Academic Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Departments and the Future of Our Specialty
- Advancing Academic Capacity in Physical and Rehabilitation Medicine to Strengthen Rehabilitation in Health Systems Worldwide
- Challenges and Opportunities in Academic Physiatry
- Future of Academic Medical Centers
- Rehab Workforce

Session 4 – So, you want to start a research program in your department...

- Basic Steps to Building a Research Program
- Building a Research Program in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation
- Is Academic Medicine a Financially Viable Career?
- Reflections on Rehabilitation

Session 5 – Building Capacity: High level strategy and tactics

Session 6 – Managing a multi-disciplinary research program

Session 7 – Practical topics and pitfall in developing a research career and department research portfolio

- Finding and doing what matters most: Five productivity strategies for physicians in academic medicine
- Organizational Strategies to Promote Engagement and Reduce Burnout
- Research Accelerator Program

Session 8 – Ethics and Compliance

- Compliance Issues in PM&R Research